Exciting DoodleEnglish curriculum redesign:

Hundreds of new concept explanations

We've developed engaging, interactive mini lessons that introduce new grammar and punctuation concepts.

Step-by-step learning

Concepts are now introduced in smaller, more manageable steps, ensuring a smoother learning journey and better enabling pupils to build confidence and excel.

Grammar & punctuation focus

We're sharpening our focus to help your pupils master the essentials of grammar and punctuation. Concepts cover the essential statutory requirements of the English National Curriculum to better prepare students for SATs.

Reinforcement of learning

Key concepts are revisited across different year groups, ensuring progression of sentence structures and vocabulary.

Early learning boost

New content at the beginning of Year 1 starts with letter recognition, setting a stronger foundation for all future learning.

In response to feedback from parents, teachers and pupils, we've restructured the lessons to make learning more intuitive and enjoyable for all pupils.

This enables pupils to spend more time working within their zone of proximal development, making greater strides, especially in grammar and punctuation. With a more thoughtful and effective progression between English concepts, DoodleEnglish is now better than ever.

New question styles and revamped question sets:

Diverse questions: elevating engagement

We've increased the variety of interactive question types throughout a pupil's DoodleEnglish journey to make for a more engaging learning experience. Our aim with this increased question variety is to improve pupils' concept retention, adaptability, critical thinking and problem-solving skills.

Curriculum-aligned vocabulary

We've enhanced the choice of vocabulary used across all Doodle English age groups for better alignment to the English National Curriculum.

Empowering independence

We've improved accessibility with additional audio support, coloured overlays and glossaries to promote independence.

“DoodleEnglish supports our curriculum perfectly. It has really built the confidence of our lower-ability children as it gives them a chance to consolidate and reinforce their skills. It has also been challenging enough for our higher-ability children.”
